External Revenue - Group Businesses

¥ 459.5 billion

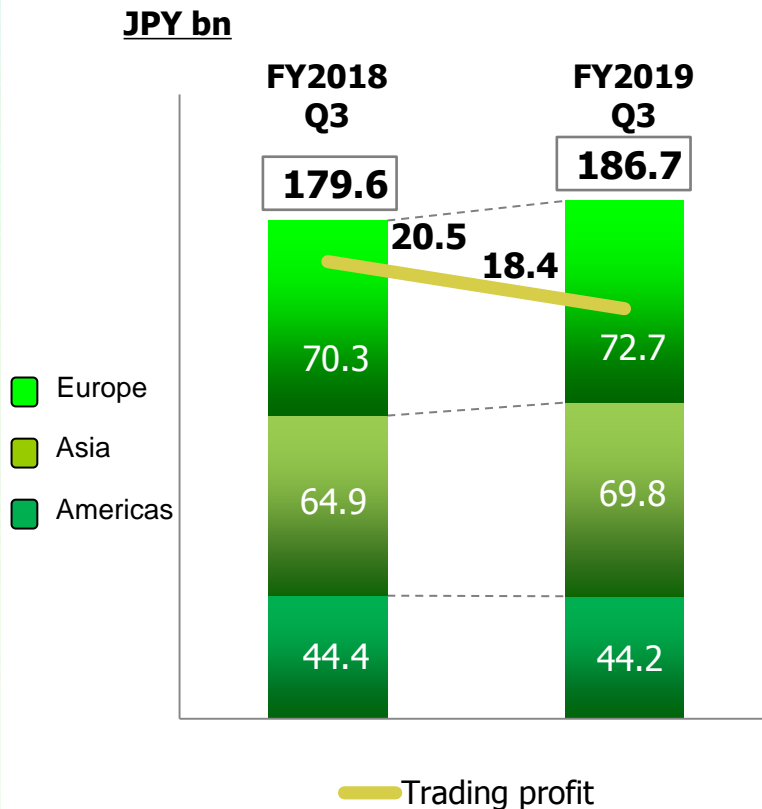

FY2019 3rd Quarter

Diversified geographical coverage

Architectural

FY2018 Q3 v FY2019 Q3

Europe (Revenue , Profit)

- Solid performance in Q3, while affected by furnace repair in H1 and input cost increase

Asia (Revenue , Profit)

- Revenue increase in Japan improved performance
- Southeast Asia benefitted from increased solar volume offset by impact of increased competition

Americas (Revenue , Profit)

- North America revenue improved with robust demand and restart of Ottawa facility, but profitability affected by cost push
- South America results in JPY affected by hyperinflation accounting adjustments, despite strong market conditions

Profits affected by input cost increase and hyperinflation

Automotive

FY2018 Q3 v FY2019 Q3

Europe (Revenue↑, Profit↑)

- Though markets deteriorated in Q3, significant revenue and profit improvement year-on-year

Asia (Revenue↑, Profit↑)

- Production and shipment in Japan was stable in Q3, while affected by natural disasters in H1
- Volumes contributed to improved profitability in AGR

Americas (Revenue→, Profit↑)

- North America OE volumes stable at good level, AGR results improving
- Increasing volume in Brazil, but revenue impacted by currency weakness

While affected by sudden headwind in Europe in Q3, revenue and profit improved year-on-year in most regions

Technical Glass

Technical Glass (Revenue → , Profit ↑)

- Profit in Display improved due to higher revenue and lower cost base
- Firm demand for printer lenses
- Demand for glass cord softened
- Metashine™ sales expansion for automotive paints and cosmetics
- Strong demand for battery separators in Japan, but signs of slow-down elsewhere in Asia

Profit continuing to improve, especially in display

Revised trading profit forecast reflect recent headwinds in the marketplace. Original forecast of net profit maintained

Revision of FY2019 Annual Forecast

Trading profit revised from JPY 43 bn to JPY 39 bn

- Trading profit forecast to be slightly ahead of previous year results (FY2018: JPY 37.7 billion)
- Reflecting sudden headwind in Automotive markets in Europe, currency depreciation in South America and energy-related cost increase
- Assumptions for Q4

Architectural	Stable market conditions to continue excluding headwinds in Asia and UK
	Higher energy cost mainly in Europe & Asia; hyperinflation accounting impact in South America
Automotive	Affected by changes in European markets from Q3, including impact of WLTP and exports of premium marque. AGR business performing well
	Continued VA shift and efficiency improvement
Technical	Continued solid performance for most products, with Display fixed cost reduction

Summary

FY2019 Q3 Results

- Revenues improving reflecting stable market conditions, although sudden slowdown of European automotive markets from Q3
- Trading profits flat, despite headwinds of weak South American currencies and increased energy cost
- Significant increase in net profit

FY2019 Forecast

- Sudden deterioration of European automotive market, although markets generally stable elsewhere
- Full-year revenue and trading profit forecast revised, while net profit forecast remains unchanged. Both trading and net profits to continue to improve year-on-year
- Actions to continue to drive VA shift, efficiency improvement and cost reduction being taken, aiming for the sixth year of trading profit growth

Notice

The projections contained in this document are based on information currently available to us and certain assumptions that we consider to be reasonable. Hence the actual results may differ. The major factors that may affect the results are the economic and competitive environment in major markets, product supply and demand shifts, currency exchange and interest rate fluctuations, changes in supply of raw materials and fuel and changes and laws and regulations, but not limited.
